

CARL BECKER writes in The Yale Review these trite words . . .

To have faith in the dignity and worth of the individual man, to believe that it is better to be governed by persuasion than by coercion, to believe that fraternal goodwill is more worthy than a selfish and contentious spirit, to believe that in the long run all values are inseparable from the love of truth and the disinterested search of it, to believe that knowledge and the power it confers should be used to promote the welfare and happiness of all men . . . these are the values which are affirmed by the traditional ideology; they are the values which men have commonly employed to measure the advance of civilization; the values which men have celebrated in the saints and the sages.

The only way to see both sides of a problem is to straddle it.

SOME FANTASTIC stories about quail hunting were being spun the other day around the Lions Club luncheon table. Of course, you could stretch the imagination and believe some of them.

But, one thing about the tales that Banker W. C. (Ted) Russell tells, a fellow can believe them. For example, here are two of those he threw out:

"Back several years ago I was hunting birds northwest of town with a friend and my very unusual quail dog. We ran upon a bunch of blue quail, and as the dog corralled them they ran down into a prairie dog hole. The dog slapped his foot over the hole and waited for me to get ready to shoot—then let them out one at a time, and we downed every one on those birds."

Realizing everyone who heard it believed his story, he further discoursed: "That same dog was a devoted hunter," Russell averred. "One day some friends and I went out with the dog who began chasing some bob-whites ahead of us. They went into some brush, and we lost track of the birds and dog. We couldn't find the dog or the birds. Then a month later we returned to the same area, and ran up on the dog. He was standing there dead, poised in a pointing position, having starved to death. The birds, too, were dead, having starved to death in a bunch under the stare of the dog."

How can the other fellow be so bull-headed and wrong when we are big-hearted enough to show him our way?

THIS SPECIAL GREETING is sent to a select group of our friends and neighbors—a group who throughout the year stand ready and willing to come to our aid should the need arise. These fellows brave the cold and the heat, and at times risk their lives for us. They spend hours of their time each year in training and studying ways to help them do a gratis job better.

So, as we extend greetings of season to our friends, we wish to send a special message of appreciation to members of our Volunteer Fire Department . . . the fellows who are responsible for our feeling of security when the fire alarm is sounded, regardless of the hour or the weather.

Because you make our lives more enjoyable and add so much to our peace of mind, we want to give you a special vote of thanks, and to wish for you and yours the merriest Christmas possible.—Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin Citizen.

The Country Parson

"Maybe you can hear a better church service on the TV—but with whom do you shake hands when it's over?"

IF SENATOR LYNDON B. JOHNSON decides to run in the 1960 presidential derby, he has a horse for the purpose. This four-year-old quarter horse was presented to the senator by Tarrant County supporters at a recent appreciation dinner. Senator Johnson lifts his western style hat in responsive appreciation.

Rev. Hartley Takes First Baptist Pulpit

Official acceptance of the pastorate of the Hamlin First Baptist Church was communicated Sunday morning to the congregation by Rev. Lenard A. Hartley, for three years pastor of the Lamar Street Baptist Church in Sweetwater. He will be on the field here Monday, January 25, he said.

Rev. Hartley, 39 years of age, had preached in the local church at both services on December 13 and was extended the call following the evening service in church conference, which made the call unanimous.

The Sweetwater man will succeed Rev. Calvin Bailey, who in mid-August accepted pastorate of a Bristol, Virginia, church. Rev. Byron Bryant, director of public relations at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, has acted as interim pastor and will conclude that capacity Sunday, January 24.

Anniversary Services Set at Sunset Church

Beginning Wednesday evening, January 6, a series of services celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Sunset Baptist Church in Hamlin will be held at the North Hamlin church, leaders of the congregation announce.

A former pastor, Rev. Raymond B. Tiner of Midlothian, will do the preaching, which will run through Sunday, January 10, with all-day services Sunday. The public is invited to attend the services.

Department of Health Gives Pointers On Health Rules for New Resolutions

A brand new decade makes its debut tomorrow. If you're short of resolutions, suggests the State Department of Health, here's a list designed especially to keep you around to see the 60's end:

Promise yourself you'll give your body at least as good care as you give your car. Let your family physician look you over thoroughly once a year whether you feel bad or not. Make it twice yearly if you're middle aged. Periodic check-ups are the best way yet devised to detect bodily disorders while they can still be treated successfully.

Check in with your dentist once yearly, too. Dental trouble will not kill you but sometimes it can make you wish you were dead. And the dentist can help push back the time when you will need dentures, which is a major accomplishment in itself.

If you are 40 and fat, resolve to start passing up the candied versity at Abilene, has acted as interim pastor and will conclude that capacity Sunday, January 24.

Hartley was farming on the Plains when he answered the call to preach. A graduate of Wayland College at Plainview, he pastored churches at Edmiston, Louisiana and Baird before going to the Sweetwater church.

During his stay at the Sweetwater charge the church has had 357 additions, now having a resident membership of 650. Sunday School attendance in 1959 has averaged 300. The church has added 1,200 square feet of educational space and built a new parsonage valued at $20,000. Total church property is valued at $200,000.

Rev. Hartley holds a bachelor of arts degree from Hardin-Simmons University and has two years of work at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth. His wife holds a bachelor of science degree from H-SU.

Besides his pastorate, Rev. Hartley has been a leader in denominational activity of the area. He has been moderator of the Sweetwater (three-county) Baptist Association for two years. He is president of the Ministerial Association of Sweetwater, and is District 17 (12-county) stewardship chairman and leader for the forward finance program.

The minister and his wife have a three-year-old daughter, Janet.

B. V. Newberry Is Named President Of BCD for 1960

B. V. Newberry, high school principal, was elected president of the Hamlin Board of Community Development for 1960 at a regular meeting of the board of directors last Monday night, according to Fred B. Moore Jr., president.

Other officers elected were: Joe Hudspeth, first vice president; Johnnie Agnew, second vice president; and R. L. McClung, secretary-treasurer.

Newberry will take office at the annual membership banquet of the BCD Friday, January 29, at which time George Jordan of Brownwood will be guest speaker.

At the Monday meeting the board heard the annual report given in behalf of each committee, and heard plans by the trade development committee to hold a new type drawing to replace the Appreciation Day promotion. Details will be made public at a later date.

Six newly elected directors were welcomed by the president, Moore, speaking in behalf of the board, pointed out to the new directors: "Cities are made the same as men are made. There are certain factors that contribute to their making. The highest of these factors is undoubtedly good citizenship."

"Undoubtedly for most of you, everything you have and ever will have, you have received from your community in one way or another. Why not put something back into the community that has been so good to you by actively participating in the BCD?"

In addition to hearing the year-end report, the board was given a look at the proposed budget for 1960, which included some $5,000 increase. No action was taken at that time.

Grading Finished on Old Glory Highway

Grading has been completed on the eight-mile stretch of unpaved road on the new farm-to-market highway from Hamlin to Old Glory, from the Jones-Stonewall County line north of Hamlin to the Brazos River crossing. Caliche was being hauled and graded on the stretch, and should be ready for topping soon.

The big $160,000 concrete bridge across the river is about two-thirds completed. All piers are completed, and the bridge flooring is being poured as weather permits.

JOE HOLTS HAVE GUESTS.

Mildred Holt of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Lee Jenkins of Winters were guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holt.

Predicts Election Of Republican as President Again

No substantial reduction in the cost of living, no war with Russia during the year, and little accomplishment by Congress are among highlights in the annual business and financial forecast for 1960 by Roger W. Babson, foremost business advisor and financial consultant. His complete forecast and comments on various aspects of the nation's and world's economy follows:

Naturally, as I am just back from Moscow and Berlin, my first thoughts are what will happen to Berlin in 1960. My answer is definitely, "nothing will happen." Mr. K. will make no more ultimatums; President Eisenhower will continue his peace talks. Therefore, the Berlin situation will be just the same in 1960 and 1961 as it is today.

There will be no world war started between Russia and the United States in 1960. This does not mean that such a war will not come within 10 years; but just now neither country is ready for it. I am convinced of this after my recent visit to Moscow.

Airplane warfare with the dropping of bombs is a thing of the past. We are turning to rocketry with pinpoint precision. Our expensive air bases may gradually be vacated.

Moscow is Mr. K's "pride and joy." It is a beautiful city with broad streets and thousands of new apartment houses. Mr. K. does not want it destroyed. Furthermore, he wants a reduction in armaments so that he will have money to raise the standard of living in Russia. I forecast he will have to do this in order to hold his power.

We first feared a "shooting war;" now we are in a "cold war."

LABOR UNIONS ARE INVITING KEEN COMPETITION

Several Hamlin business and professional men were reminded again the other day at a Lions Club luncheon that the inflationary wage increases being demanded by labor unions are bringing worlds of goods into this country from abroad that threatens our own economy. Many were rethinking what the Abilene banker said as being sensible and practical.

About the same time The Herald publisher ran onto an article by Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas, that says about the same things:

I approve of labor unions. They have rendered much service. I also approve of our American privately owned industries. When the power of these industries became too great we created anti-trust laws and prevented the growth of combinations that became too powerful. In the labor field we now have some extremely powerful combinations. For instance, one man is able to speak for the labor of the entire automobile industry; one man is able to speak for the labor of the entire steel industry; one man is able to speak for the entire coal mining industry; and one man speaks for much of the transportation industry. In these four fields, in particular, wages have been pushed up considerably faster than productivity and, accordingly, our entire economy has been injured. It would appear that this was no small part of the cause for the 1958 recession.

Let me give a couple of illustrations: Barbed wire is an American invention, and our country perhaps uses more of it than the rest of the world combined. Yet, during the past two years this nation has imported more than half of all the barbed wire that has been used. Automobiles likewise have been chiefly an American industry, and we have exported them to all nations of the world. But during the past year we imported four automobiles for every one we exported.

In other words, America is now an importing nation with regard to barbed wire and automobiles and a number of other products. This helps explain why Detroit and certain other cities haven't enough jobs. We are losing our markets abroad and at home.

There is a similar story to be told about a great many other industries. For instance, the Singer sewing machine is reported to be the only sewing machine company still producing its sewing machines in America. We are pricing ourselves out of the market in these certain areas, lessening the number of American jobs, losing world markets, and injuring our total American economy. Remedial legislation offers our only hope.

How They Started

Frank W. Woolworth's first job was helping out on rush days in a small general store. For this he received no compensation except the knowledge of the work. His second job was with the leading dry goods store of the town. Here he had to work the first three months without pay; then he received $3.50 per week. The turning point in his career occurred when business was slow, and his employer decided to inaugurate a five-cent sale. It was young Woolworth's job to arrange the wares. The sale was a huge success, and Frank's idea for a new kind of store was born.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, the philosopher, was working on his uncle's farm when he heard an ignorant farm hand remark that he thought people were always praying, and that their prayers were always answered. The words impressed young Emerson profoundly. From this encounter he was convinced he should not look to books nor to educated people for wisdom, but to life. The philosophy which came from Emerson's pen after he reached this decision has shaped the lives of many.

Henry Ford's beginning in mechanics and work with machinery was as small as Woolworth's start in business, or Emerson's beginning in philosophy. Henry's friends Will Bennett, had been given a watch, but it was not running. He persuaded Will to let him fix it. In the next few months Henry had taken apart and put together again every timepiece on the place. So Henry Ford's lifelong work with machinery began with the repairing of a watch.

Nuggets of Thought

Constant success shows us but one side of the world; adversity brings out the reverse of the picture.—Colton.

A man is never so on trial as in the moment of excessive good fortune.—Wallace.

He who is the most slow in making a promise is the most faithful in the performance of it.—Rousseau.

It is never safe to look into the future with eyes of fear.—E. H. Harriman.

What happiness is there which is not purchased with more or less pain?—Margaret Oliphant.

The circumstances of others seem good to us, while ours seem good to others.—Syrrus.

We're for Self Help

Even staunch friends of the foreign aid program throw up their hands in despair when they hear demands like those voiced by Cuba's Fidel Castro. Castro spoke at the Inter-American Economic Conference at Buenos Aires and was cheered wildly when he proposed that the United States spend some $3,000,000,000 a year for 10 years in "upgrading" Latin America.

Certainly this country should limit assistance to Latin America to technical aid and loans. It would be a crime to pour vast sums of U. S. taxpayers' money into the area. Not only would this drain the U. S. economy, but it would do little to encourage the Latins to build their own.

Editorial of the Week

SHARES IN AMERICA

President Eisenhower was not using a superficial catch-phrase when he referred to the Series E and H bonds as "shares in America." Signing legislation under which he promptly exercised authority to raise interest rates on these bonds, at this point from a maximum of 3.25 per cent to 3.75 per cent, he expressed hope that the improved return will make the bonds a more attractive investment to 40,000,000 individuals now holding them and to so many others in a position to save.

In terms of normal small denominational savings, the new interest rate can stand on its own as a fair return. Sold in large volume through payroll deduction plans, the bonds offer a method for disciplined saving—for a relatively "painless" accumulation of capital that may easily and quickly be transferred into dollars if needed.

It is in the relationship between the savings bond program and the overall problem of financing the government that the "shares in America" theme has a broad meaning. More than $42,000,000,000 of these bonds are now outstanding, representing approximately one-seventh of the current public debt of around $290,000,000,000. The voluntary assumption of this proportion of the public debt through relatively small individual bond purchases not only is an expression of faith in America, as the president said, but is of tremendous help to the treasury in its debt management. As such, it contributes in substantial measure to the economic strength of the nation.—Washington Evening Star.

Paving Base Ready On Southeast Ave. A

For the second time within the past three weeks, the paving base on Southeast Avenue A was prepared for surfacing first of the week, and a representative of the paving contractor, C. & C. Asphalt Paving Company of Colorado City, said they hoped to do the topping Wednesday or Thursday.

After getting the base ready three weeks ago, heavy rains rutted the base.

Property owners on two connecting streets, Southeast Third and Fourth Streets, between Avenue A and Central Avenue, were hoping to have these streets paved soon. Some paving in the residential area also is planned.

Babson Sees No War, Says Republicans Will Win Presidency Again This Year

but we will soon be in an "educational war." In 1960 the United States will expend far greater effort on education.

Along with the effort to improve education during 1960, I forecast that our teachers will be given a minimum salary of $5,000 and that schools of all states will receive federal aid.

I forecast that, instead of spending so much money on new school buildings, municipalities will give more attention to discipline, promotions and sifting, and to the teaching of mathematics, physics and chemistry in both grammar and high schools.

I forecast that some of those who have gone into business will seek teaching jobs, which will be a major force in postponing World War III. School teaching will be a part of our national defense.

The Russians are afraid of China, which I hope to visit again in 1960. Hence, I forecast that more friendly relations will develop between China and the United States during 1960.

Space travel to the moon is largely for propaganda purposes and to take our minds off the military phases of rocketry, submarines and breaking the earth's crust. Only the fear of retaliation will prevent the Russians from starting a world war.

I will now forecast who the Republican candidates in 1960 will be—Nixon and Rockefeller.

The Democratic candidates cannot now be forecast. Senator Kennedy thinks he has the nomination "sewed up," but Johnson and Symington, and even Stevenson, have large followings.

I forecast that relations with Russia will become far more important than the question of inflation.

The Republican slogan in 1960 will be, "It is always dangerous to swap horses going across a rapid stream." I, therefore, forecast that the Republicans will have at least a 50-50 chance of success in 1960.

In fact, on the basis of their slogan, I look for a Republican victory, though with a very close margin.

I forecast no reduction in taxes of any consequence during 1960.

I predict that present defense expenditures will be reduced and the money spent on rocketry, submarines, breaking the earth's crust, and education.

There will be very little reduction in foreign aid during 1960.

I forecast an attempt in 1960 to increase tariffs on goods imported from Germany, Italy, Japan and other cheap labor countries.

I expect 1960 to be a "do nothing" year for Congress. Both parties will be working for continued prosperity.

I forecast no substantial reduction in living costs during 1960.

The newly imported cheap, low priced automobiles are here to stay. Their importation cannot be checked.

Electric power rates will be lowered in 1960.

Clothing should cost less in 1960. In fact, most textiles and plastics will sell for less in 1960.

Soap and all forms of washing powder will sell for less in 1960. This applies also to "wonder drugs" and other chemical products.

Cost of wooden homes—due to labor—will advance in price during 1960. Cement and modern machinery will displace brick laying. Hence, there may not be much increase in the cost of building fire-proof apartment houses.

The cost of electronic machinery should be higher because of the growing demand for automation to offset the rise in wages.

Steel products (especially stainless)—from the tableware used in homes to the steel used to build bridges—will be in greater demand in 1960.

The demand for most food products will increase during 1960. This should especially help the United Fruit Company, as bananas give the most nourishment, at the least cost, of any known food.

I forecast increases in rents, maintenance and taxes. But super markets will compete with one another and the housewife should benefit therefrom.

Florida is a good place for middle aged people to buy a home in a small city as insurance for the time when they retire. Persons buying such homes should depend upon a check from the North every month and not depend upon getting a job in Florida. Even today in Florida one person in 10 is over 65 years of age.

The price of city real estate will depend upon its parking privileges. Wise municipal officials will pull down old two and three-story buildings to make parking lot and municipal garages much more plentiful.

The above also applies to suburban real estate. I forecast that new suburban zoning laws will require houses to have vacant adjoining lots sufficient for present and future parking needs.

The demand for modern stores and for centrally located apartments will continue to increase during 1960.

I forecast that those building a "single" house for their own occupancy will also provide an apartment for rent.

I forecast that large commercial farms should be profitable in 1960; but many operators of small farms, not properly located for suburban growth, will sell to some adjoining farmers.

Small farms on well drained land and near enough to a city for future suburban developments should be held. I forecast such farms should some day sell for triple their present price.

Seashore property should be held. The government can print more bonds and corporations can split and declare stock dividends to make more stocks; but only God can make seashore property.

I forecast that real estate taxes will increase during 1960. Wise are property owners who make their rentals "plus annual taxes."

As the Russians gradually move westward like a glacier, taking ownership of all property, wise people in Europe will sell their present property and businesses and move to the United States.

I forecast that revolutions in mining will continue during 1960, and you may find that you are living on a valuable iron deposit, if not on a gold mine!

For the first time in the 40 years that I have been preparing these annual outlooks, I shall not take a position on the Dow-Jones average for 1960. I am, however, inclined to believe that the stock market in general will hold up at least until after the election. Then there may come a break, whichever party wins the election next November.

I forecast 1960 will be the year to buy good bonds. United States government bonds yielding five per cent are a great bargain. Anyone buying them is bound to make money. I also like all non-taxable bonds and also some taxable but convertible bonds.

I forecast some chemical stocks will still be a buy in 1960, although they yield income and are good only as growth stocks.

There will be failures by the thousands among those companies now issuing electronics stocks. Electronics issues have become a popular fad. There is also unemployment ahead for many who are now working in electronics factories.

I forecast that the stocks of electric power companies, but not those of large cities, will be in greater demand in 1960.

If all stocks, I forecast that United Fruit may be most in demand in 1960.

I predict that only a few railroads will be popular during 1960 such as Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and perhaps Southern Pacific and Santa Fe. I am bearish on Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, New Haven and all short lines except for the Norfolk & Western, my "pet gravity road." I also fear a short railroad strike.

Failures will continue to increase during 1960.

I forecast that the huge national road building program will give an uplift to business as it progresses.

There will be marked changes in money rates during 1960. Inflation will gradually continue, but may not be serious during the year.

The best investment policy during 1960 will continue to be a well diversified portfolio with one-third in stocks for possible growth profits, one-third in bonds for safety and income, and one-third in cash in order to have funds available for investment in the severe and sudden drop in the stock market which will come some day.

The three handicaps to American business in 1960 will be increasing installment purchases, the unfair demands of labor union leaders, and President Eisenhower's physical condition. The three prime hopes for America are our churches, our schools and our praying parents.

In Texas during 1958 one of every four traffic victims was a young Texan of public school and college age.

Liberalized Definition Of Adopted Child of Veterans Announced

Congress has liberalized the definition of an "adopted child" of a veteran eligible to receive benefits administered by the Veterans Administration, according to a release from the VA to The Herald this week.

If at the time of the veteran's death the child was living in the veteran's household, and if the child is legally adopted by the veteran's surviving spouse within two years after the veteran's death, he or she is considered to be the veteran's adopted child, the VA explained.

Formerly the adoption proceedings had to be completed before the veteran's death for the child to be eligible for any of the benefits, including compensation, pension, war orphans' educational assistance, dependency and indemnity compensation and accrued benefits.

Lions See Film on Diesel Power in Progress of U. S.

"Giants in the Land" was the title of an interesting and colorful film presented as the program feature of the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house. Max Murrell was in charge of the showing.

The film, depicting the development of the diesel engine in connection with the expansion of the country, presented beautiful shots of mountainous country of the West, industrial developments, water conservation, road building and timber harvesting with the giant engines of the modern age.

Viewers of the film were privileged to ride in huge dirt movers, modern diesel trains and even the latest turbo-prop airplanes and submarines through views made aboard these crafts.

President Donley Williams reported that the thirty-odd children whom members of the Lions Club last week hosted at lunch and presented surprise Christmas remembrances to expressed keen thanks through the school nurse, Mrs. Billy Davis, who supervised the Lions gesture for the kids.

Richard Johnson of Abilene was a guest at the Tuesday luncheon.

Fayma Louise Downey Becomes Bride Of Don Drummond on Saturday Eve

Fayma Louise Downey became the bride of Don Thurman Drummond Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Hamlin at 5:00 o'clock. Officiating for the double ring ceremony was Rev. G. C. Henry of Mullins, former pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Hamlin, who is now retired.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Downey, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Drummond, all of the Hamlin community.

Give in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin. The empire bodice was covered with lace over tulle and embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The V-shape of the back neckline was repeated above and below the waistline. The satin skirt fell to a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of iridescent and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli atop a white Bible.

Carl Weaver was best man. Ushers were Cliff Drummond, brother of the bridegroom, and Bill Murff. Another brother, Jack Drummond of Lubbock, was groomsmen.

Flower girls were Judy and Sharon Bassing of Jal, New Mexico, cousins of the bride. Candle-lighters were Zona Carol Bassing, cousin of the bride, and David Drummond, another brother of bridegroom.

Ring-bearers were Stevie Baker of Lubbock and Allen Bassing of Jal, New Mexico. They are both cousins of the bride.

Wedding music was presented by Linda Bigham, organist, and Carolyn O'Pry of Rule.

Margaret Cooper of Waco was maid-of-honor. Bridesmaid was Charlene Bowen of Hereford, the bride's cousin. They were identically attired in street length dresses of red velvet with a red carnation arrangement.

Mrs. Drummond is a graduate of McCauley High School and attended Tarleton State College at Stephenville. He is a Hamlin High School graduate. He presently is attending Arlington State College and is a member of the football team. She is a senior at North Texas State College, majoring in home economics.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted Friday evening at the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church by the bridegroom's parents.

Christmas Coffee for Fifty-Two Study Club

A Christmas coffee was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Vaughn December 16 at 9:30 a. m. for members of the Fifty-Two Study Club.

Bride-to-Be Honored At Gift Party at NTSC

Mrs. Don Drummond, who before her marriage Saturday was Fayma Downey, was honored with a kitchen gift party December 17 in Marguis Hall at North Texas State College at Denton.

Hostesses for the party were Margaret Cooper of Waco, the bride's roommate, Carolyn O'Pry of Rule and Barbara Pigg of Manfield.

A woman who had just reached her twenty-ninth birthday was talking to the pastor of her church about her desire to find a suitable mate.

"You mustn't be discouraged," the minister told her. "In this world there's a man for every woman and a woman for every man. You can't improve on an arrangement like that."

To which the young lady replied: "I don't want to improve on it—I just want to get in on it."

Christmas Supper For National Honor Society Group Given

Home of Mrs. Jack Richey was the scene of an unusual Christmas party last Wednesday evening after church. The mothers of the old members of the Hamlin High School chapter of the National Honor Society gave a Christmas snack supper for all of the members.

Attendatns played games, wrote letters to Santa Claus, and then were served fritos, dips, cokes and cookies.

Darla Harkey, Ann Rabjohn, Nina Jean, Montie Wade and Bob Murff were the new members who attended. Peggy Dodd, Barbara Cheshier, Lana Lancaster, Iona Seaton, Patricia Bigham and Ann Richey were the old members who attended.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip of unnamed destination. For traveling the bride wore a beige suit with wide fur collar and beige feather hat. Her accessories were brown shoes and brown bag. She had a corsage from the bride's bouquet.

After their wedding trip they will be at home at 317 Jeanette Street in South Abilene.

Downey, and parents of the bridegroom. The newlyweds will live at Denton following a wedding trip to Austin and other South Texas points.

Housewife Can Feed Family Cheaper By Watching Plentiful Foods Listings

"I resolve to eat better and more economically in 1960." That could well be the No. 1 New Year's resolution for every Texas homemaker. It makes sense.

How? Here's an idea that will help: Follow the U. S. Department of Agriculture's monthly list of plentiful foods, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Lower price, usually accompany in-season and abundant food supplies. Wider selection for quality also enters the picture. And when crops are large, quality usually runs higher.

USDA's monthly list (printed regularly in The Hamlin Herald) is determined by the Agricultural Marketing Service on the basis of expected availability. When the supply of any farm produced food exceeds normal trade needs, that food is eligible for listing. Newspapers, radio stations and the food trade in general then cooperate with growers and the USDA in nation-wide promotion. Special prices often accompany these efforts.

Start with January. Look for an abundance of eggs. Supplies are increasing seasonally. Eggs, especially the larger sizes, right now return a lot of nutrition compared to cost.

Plenty of apples, oranges, raisins and cranberries also are in

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin.—As the year draws to a close, it's hard to look backward for looking forward to what so many are sure will be the "silver lined sixties."

But 1959 was an eventful year. Some of the biggest Texas headlines centered on these happenings:

Speaker's Race—Suspense became almost unbearable in a hard fought, down-to-the-wire speaker's race. Waggoner Carr won a second term 79 to 71, over challenger Joe Burkett. Now the race is on against with Representatives Wade Spillman of McAllen and James Turman of Goben contending for the job in 1961.

Tax Bill—It took a marathon meeting of the Legislature—from January until August—before an agreement could be reached on a $185,000,000 new tax bill. Lawmakers faced not only the need to cover a $2,418,000,000 budget for the 1959-61 biennium, but a dismaying $65,000,000 deficit.

Biggest bones of contention were two of Governor Price Daniel's key proposals: The abandoned property tax, which did not pass; and the severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, which did. Three-fourths of the new revenue comes from selective sales taxes. A number of old sales levies, on autos, cigarettes and liquor, were upped. New ones, including furs, jewelry, air conditioners, phonographs, hotel and motel rentals, were added.

Signals Changed—Though it was primarily a "tax session," Legislature passed a number of other laws with wide public effect. Political primaries and conventions will be held in May and June, instead of July and August. Boat owners must register their craft, observe certain safety regulations. City firemen and policemen won shorter hours, and city administrative officials grudgingly juggled their budgets to meet the extra cost. Truckers finally passed a bill they'd been pushing for some years to raise the truck load limit from 58,400 to 72,000 pounds.

Teacher Pay—Question of whether a fourth special session should be called to raise money to increase teachers' salaries was posed but not answered in 1959. Governor Daniel said he would leave it to the people to decide. Thus far the decision is not known, except that the governor said if he calls the session, it will not begin until after the February 1 filing deadline for public office.

Tidelands—Texas officials went before the U. S. Supreme Court again to fight for state ownership of the tidelands. Texas claims it owns the submerged lands for 10½ miles out. U. S. attorney general says state ownership extends only three miles. High court's decision is awaited.

New Buildings—A big part of Texas government picked up and moved this past fall from rented quarters scattered over Austin into three new state buildings. Texas Employment Commission building, state office building and state courts building were completed within a few months of each other. Earlier the State Health Department expanded into a new building. A state archives building is in construction, and an insurance building is on the drawing board.

Auto Insurance Rates—State Board of Insurance announced new auto insurance rates designed to put the burden of expense on the drivers who have the accidents. Plan has stirred up a beehive of controversy. But it is to go into effect as scheduled January 1.

LBJ for President—State politics was almost swept aside after Speaker Sam Rayburn announced a Lyndon Johnson-for-president campaign. Texas party leaders took up the banner, and Johnson clubs spread across the state, covering at last count 191 counties. Senator Johnson says he is not a candidate for president. But he has criss-crossed the state in an energetic "reelection" campaign.

Election Campaigns—Politicking was rampant as the year ended, but very few candidates have paid their filing fees for state-wide offices. Some put off filing until January to avoid competing with Christmas for public attention. Others wait for Governor Daniel to say whether he will seek a third term before they decide whether to stay put or try to move up.

Oil Still Trickling—Texas oil wells will flow only 10 days in January. This production pattern, the same as during December, was ordered by the Texas Railroad Commission after major purchasers' requests ranged from nine to 11 days.

Three Million Jobs—Texas will enter the sixties with more than 3,000,000 employed in non-farm jobs. Employment gained 7,000 over November to push the total at mid-December to 2,999,800, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

Attainment of the 3,000,000 figure was expected by late December, the report said.

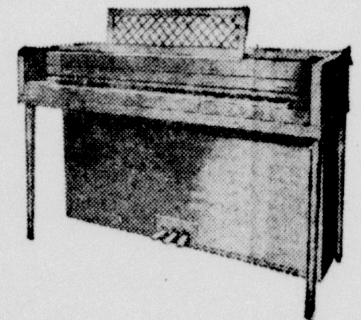

Texas Cities Self Reliant—Cities of only four other states are more self reliant than Texas cities, according to a study by the Texas Municipal League.

State assistance to Texas cities amounts to 31 per cent of the expenditures of municipal government. States in which the percentage is lower are Missouri, 3 per cent; Kentucky, 1.3 per cent; Montana, 0.9 per cent; and West Virginia, 0.4 per cent. National average is 16 per cent.

Another Tax Study—State taxes will undergo another study by a nine-member legislative and layman committee. Particular attention will be directed at property taxes and the new taxes adopted in the recent sessions.

Senator William S. Fly of Victoria, who was chairman of the tax study commission for the past two years, was named to head the new effort. Representative Frates Sellsion of San Antonio will again be vice chairman as before. A layman, John McKee of Dallas, will also serve again in his previous role as secretary.

Other members of the committee are Senator George Parkhouse of Dallas, Senator Louis Crump of San Saba, Representative Gordon Bristow of Big Spring, Representative V. L. (Bo) Ramsey of Beckville, Hugo Lorvestein of Amarillo and Dr. John R. Stockton of Austin.

Hearings will again be heard over the state as during the past two years. They will begin early in 1960.

Insurance Plan Hit—You may pay more or less for your automobile insurance after January 1.

Everything hinges on your driving record. But the new system is being challenged.

Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo has leveled a barrage of criticism at the merit rating plan. Under the system, drivers are assessed rate increases for accidents and moving traffic violations occurring during the three years preceding the payment of the premium. Drivers with flawless records get a 20 per cent reduction.

Hazelwood complained that the application of the plan to past offenses was unfair. He said lack of uniformity in traffic law enforcement is also unfair to drivers in strict enforcement areas.

Law requires the Texas Board of Insurance to call a hearing within 30 days after a request from any policy-holder or insurer. So the board set a hearing for January 14 at 9:30 a. m. in the State Highway Department hearing room. Insurance Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson said the plan and the new rates will go into effect January 1. Changes could be ordered later.

Even a tombstone will say good things about a guy when he's down.

Love is an ocean of emotion surrounded by expanses of expenses.

Five Hamlin Gridders Named Outstanding by Booster Club

Trophy Placed in Case as Tribute To Team of 1959

Beautiful bronze trophy bearing the names of five outstanding players of the 1959 Hamlin High School football team is being placed this week in the trophy display case at Hamlin High School by members of the Pied Piper Booster Club.

Members of the booster group, which for several years has been sponsor of several team boosting and morale raising projects for athletes at the high school, voted on placings for the outstanding boys of this year's squad, which lost only one game—and that to State AA Champion Stamford.

Final meeting of the boosters was held last week. Named in the voting were: Ken Prewitt, outstanding defensive back; Dwight Griggs, outstanding offensive back; Durwood Boyd, outstanding offensive lineman; and David Bonds, outstanding defensive lineman; and Sam Hodges, who scored so high for both offensive and defensive posts, he also was included on the trophy.

"We had a lot of fine boys on our Pied Piper team this year, and would like to make every boy the outstanding player," declared an official of the booster club. Every single boy got some votes, but it had to be boiled down to the most outstanding ones—hence the selection of the five whose names appear on the trophy."

National Farm Loan Association Name to Be Changed by Unit

According to Joe Breed of Anson, the local National Farm Loan Association, operating in Jones County, is getting a new name effective December 31. By legislation adopted by the last Congress the name will be changed from National Farm Loan Association to Federal Land Bank Association.

Functions of the new corporation will be the same as the old one, however, Breed said, namely, to make and service federal land bank loans on farms and ranches for the benefit of farmers and ranchers in this area.

Since a consolidation of associations in 1958, the local association operates in Jones, Haskell, Baylor and Knox Counties. The officers of the association are: Joe Harper of Haskell, manager; Joe Breed of Anson, assistant manager; and Ruby Smith of Haskell, office accountant. Offices are maintained at Anson, Haskell and Seymour. The Anson office which is operated by Breed is open mornings, the afternoons ordinarily being devoted to field work.

It takes at least three hours to oxidize (eliminate) one ounce of pure alcohol (about two cocktails).

Quail Hunters Have Had Fine Luck in Area

Since opening of the quail hunting season December 1 in the Hamlin territory, hunters have reported good luck with their shotguns of both bobwhite and blue quail. The birds have been in good shape, too.

Good moisture conditions, that provided feed and cover for the birds last spring, made ideal conditions for growth of the birds. However, some hunters and land owners report damage to the bird crop by parasites during the late summer months.
